Retrospective - PDI Competition

Barbara Lawton cast her judging eye over our prints on Monday evening - and had over 70 images to preside over.

Not only was she looking for the technical qualities of our prints, which includes use of thirds and good composition - she was looking for images that showed that the photographer had the "Seeing Eye" - something which members who were at Irene Froy's talk will be familiar with!

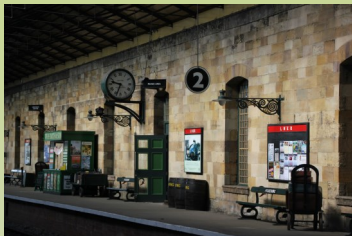

After much consideration - the following images were selected as the top three in each category:
