Monday 21st November. Presentation Evening 2022

Monday night's AGM ran smoothly and was followed by a very enjoyable Presentation evening, I have received some lovely feedback from members, thank you for all your lovely comments and thank you so much for the presentation of flowers to David & myself, there really isn't any need for this but it was a very nice gesture from everyone.

Carole & David

Heads and Tails game. Organised by Roy Harrison looked as if it turned into a hostage situation. Close run contest that produced two winners, Marie Lakin and Peter Lovett who shared the prize. Thanks to Stephen Frost for testing my camera settings as I persuaded him to wave his arms about like a whirling dervish. Doreen Barber was the last person standing at Irish Bingo.

My most recent project was in October 2021 when Wild Islands: the Nature of the Falklands was published, a collaborative project in association with Falklands Conservation. It was a project almost a decade in the making in terms of building a portfolio I was happy sufficiently reflected the islands and their wildlife and is full of images I kept out of the public domain for all that time, as well as my insight into just what makes this place so special, some stories behind the images themselves and some advice on how to make the most out of any visit you may make there yourself. You can buy copies from me direct on this website here.

Visitors are welcome to our friendly club. This is a speaker not to miss if you are into your nature photography. Just £3.50 on the door. Look forward to seeing you.

Soultrain. Rugeley and Armitage Camera Club were asked to photograph this brilliant show at the Rose Theatre. Steve Moore, John Parkes and myself (your editor Graham Caddick) plus two of our groupies Marie Lakin and Meryl Moore had a great night. The lighting conditions were difficult but Steve seems to have coped very well with the conditions. All these photos are his, plus he managed to video parts of the show. Newsletter comes first, so hopefully mine and Johns attempts can be in next weeks newsletter.
