Newsletter

29th September, 2024.

Affiliated to the Photographic Alliance of Great Britain, through the Midland Counties Photographic Federation

Last week was our first competition of the new club year and the images did not disappoint. Images from all 3 groups were of an incredible standard. I think the final results for the league tables this year are going to be very close. The evening was very long with so many images entered, but our judge John Haines did an excellent job and took his time giving every image critique. It must be hard being a judge when the subject is open and all types of images are competing against each other, how is a judge able to choose which ones are the best on the evening?
